

NINETEEN EIGHTY

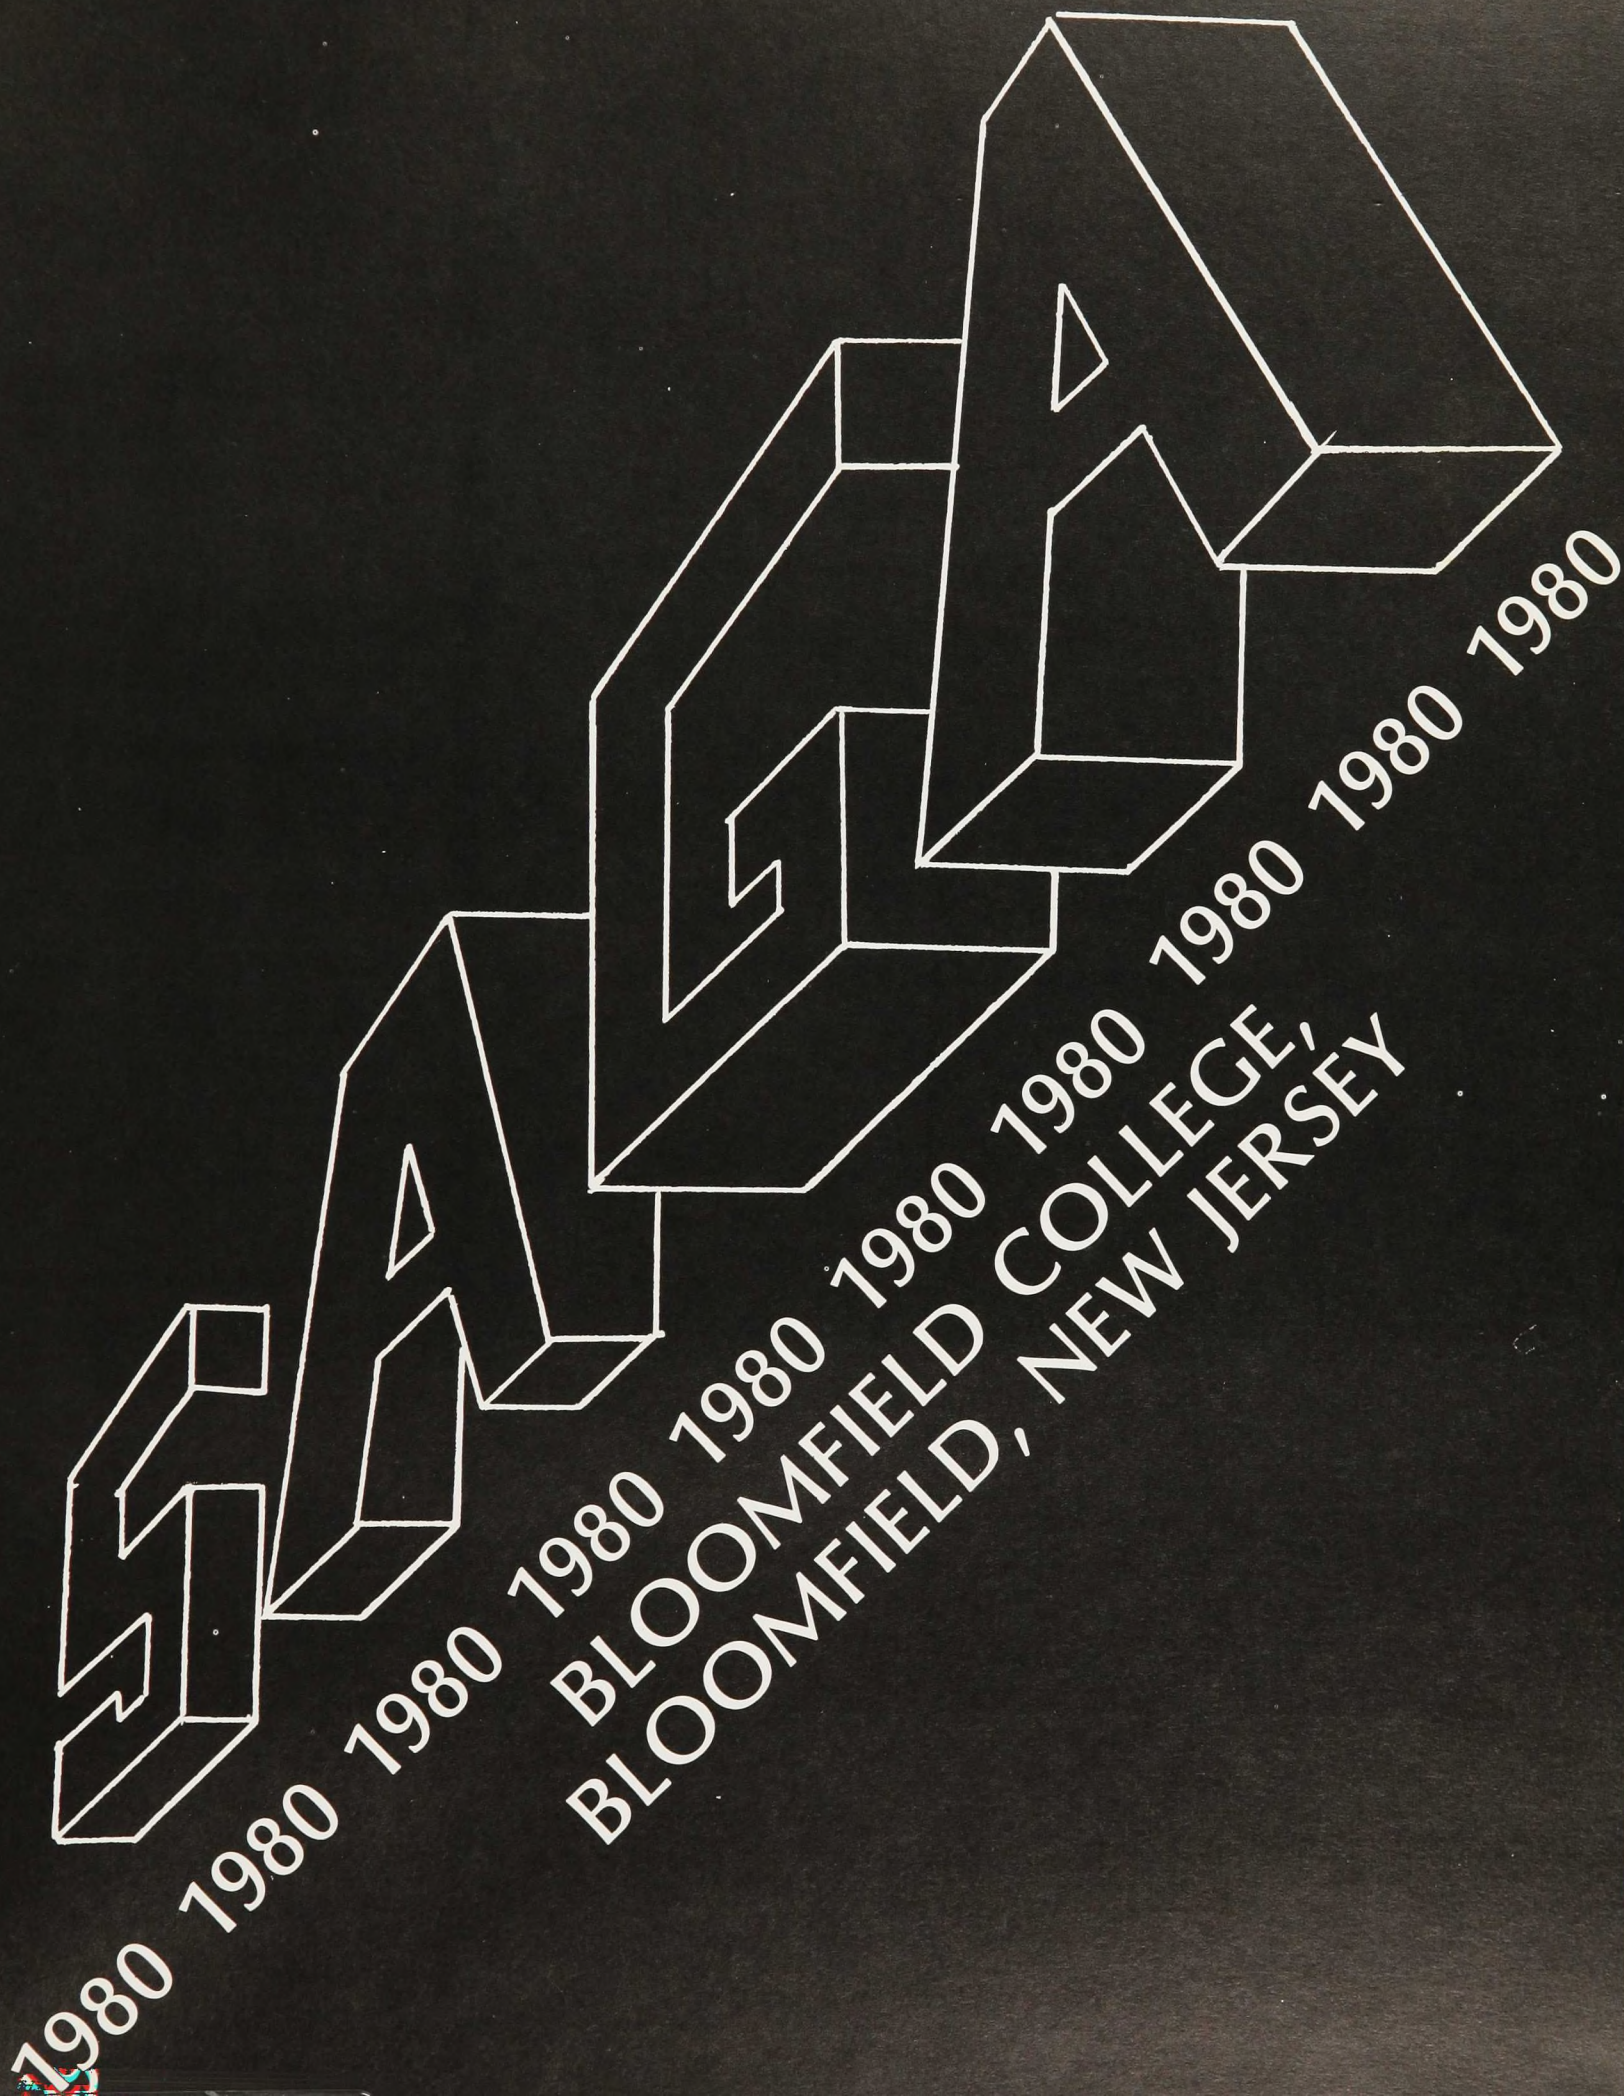

SAGA

BLOOMFIELD COLLEGE

OFFICE OF THE REGISTRAR

MAR 2 1981

RECEIVED

BLOOMFIELD COLLEGE,
BLOOMFIELD, NEW JERSEY

Commencement 1980

Dear Class of 1980:

Congratulations — but for what? When your children, grandchildren and friends view their ways through these pages, they will find images of a partial record of our life together at Bloomfield College. This Yearbook is a collage of personal portraits, activities and candid mirrors of ourselves at work and play. But I hope all who find pleasure in this book will also remember that you deserve congratulations for what is beyond these covers.

Your degree marks a significant achievement. It represents your ability to overcome obstacles, accept challenges and sacrifice for the future. Yet you have graduated at the threshold of a decade in which social and technological rates of change will leave much of your formal education outdated by the end of the decade. I hope you will never rely upon your degree, but rather view it as a passport for life-long learning.

In the years ahead you may recall Bloomfield as a place where your concerns about basic human values were made more sensitive. Most of the major political and economic problems which will face you require a stronger commitment to solutions that reflect international understanding. Congratulations for taking the risk to think beyond simple and parochial solutions.

You won't find your future in this Yearbook. You will have to fashion it anew each day, using many of the resources and skills you developed at Bloomfield. As part of your future I hope you will remember your Alma Mater — members of the faculty, administration and staff who shared their ideas, talents and lives with you. Future generations of Bloomfield's students need your encouragement and support.

Now only you have the ability to place your Bloomfield perspective in the proper focus — Congratulations, and Best Wishes!

Sincerely,

Merle F. Alshouse
President

Administration

February 11, 1980

Dear Class of 1980:

When you and I leave Bloomfield College at the end of the academic year 1979/80, we will have shared only one year in the life of the College. But we will carry away in common, I hope, good memories of this institution and its people.

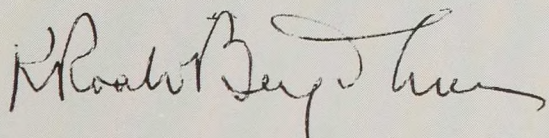

You have here enjoyed a unique opportunity to learn and to explore ideas. In Bloomfield's classrooms you have conversed through their writings with giants of the mind as you have exercised and improved basic skills. Because of your experience here, you may expect greater success in your career beyond the College and everything you see and do hereafter will in some degree be enriched by the contacts you have made here.

I shall always remember the warmth and the humaneness in personal relations among the people at Bloomfield. Both of us will remember the loss of Austin Hall through fire. I shall associate with that memory recall also of the great spirit with which the members of the Bloomfield community encompassed that misfortune. Not a day was lost from studies. Though recreational facilities were severely diminished the morale remained high. Staff as well as students exhibited a remarkable flexibility and good will in making the necessary adjustments.

All of us will forget details. We will all somehow be more self-conscious as well as sensitive to others, wiser as well as more knowledgeable because of what we have received at Bloomfield College. And so we will have reason in common to be grateful for the ideals that established the College and for the caring commitment of the many who have served its mission and preserved its capacity to contribute to each of us.

For Trustees, for members of the staff, and for the great community of Bloomfield College which you will now join as graduates, I wish you the best.

Cordially,

K. Roald Bergethon
Interim Chief Executive and Consultant

KRB:mbm

On Saturday morning October 6, 1979, Austin Hall Bloomfield College's student center went up in a blaze which quickly and thoroughly destroyed the 89 year old building. The cause of the fire was speculated to be electrical, which began either in the basement or the third floor of the building.

We the students of Bloomfield College have lost our only student lounge, gameroom, student activities office space and career planning and placement resource center. The Bloomfield College Evening Students Association, a newly formed organization, lost approximately $1,300 worth of carpeting, paint, ect. which they had recently invested in fixing up their office on the second floor. Austin Hall also housed offices for the Bloomfield College Student Association, SAGA, The Collective Review and the Bloomfield College Hiking Club.

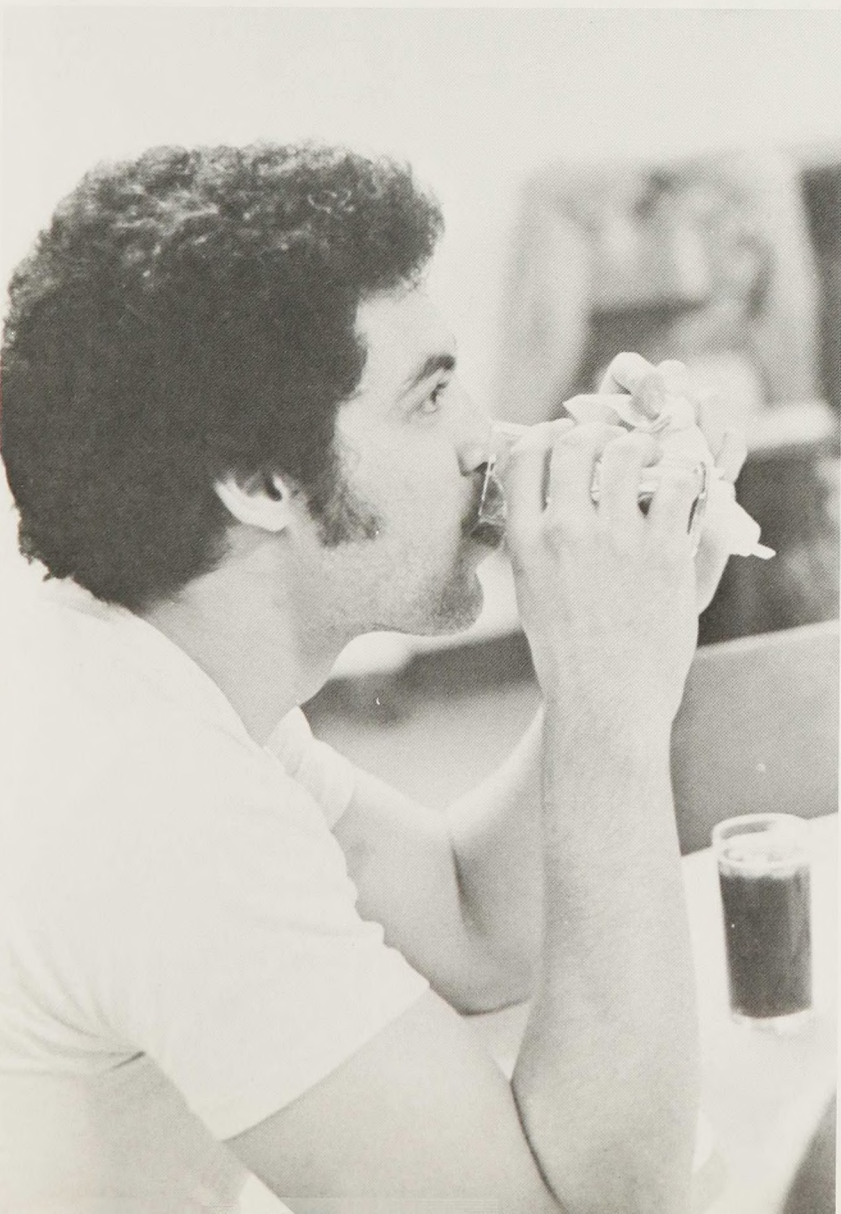

Austin Hall was built in 1890 and was listed in the National Register of Historical Places by the Bloomfield Area Environmental Action Group. It was an example of Queen Anne architecture. The building had in the past served as a grammar school for the town of Bloomfield until 1960, and was purchased by the College in 1968.

International Club

In the 1st few years, Bloomfield College has been enrolling increasing numbers of students from international backgrounds. These students have enriched the life of the campus in special ways. The International Students' Club was formed in Fall 1978, in recognition of their special needs and interests. Since it was formed, the Club has been enthusiastically supported by all of its members.

The purpose of the Club is to help international students become acquainted with each other and with members of the college community, to assist them in making the transition to college life, and to prove an opportunity to exchange ideas and share mutual interests. The Club is open to all international students as well as to any students with international interests.

The Club has assisted in sponsoring a luncheon for international students in Fall, 1978 and Spring, 1979. Also the Club held a very successful international buffet and party in November, 1978, at the home of Merle Allshouse, President of the College, and an international disco in March, 1979, at the home of Peter Scudder, Vice-President of Student Affairs.

Christian Fellowship

We started out as a group just meeting every week and discussing God's word. These weekly meetings molded into a spiritual bond that we thought should be transformed into a campus organization. Consequently, our transformation was realized with the assistance of our beloved brother and advisor Rev. Henry Braga on December 11, 1979.

We Co-sponsored a spiritual extravaganza with the Bloomfield College Contemporary Gospel Chorus that resulted into a tremendous success.

Our purpose is to instill into each and every participant, first, a sense of spiritual incite with subsequent effect of contributing to the participants overall scholastic requisites. This kind of incite will lead to a better equipped college student Prepared to face his or her society's ever going challenges and demands

Officers: President - Maurice T. Bowden
Vice-President- Angela Ashley
Treasurer- Kenneth Mills

Science Club

In February 1979, the Science Club held its first meeting at Bloomfield College. The club was originated from the former Bloomfield College Biology club. Under the direction of Dr. Paul Russo, the club's name was changed to the Science Club, to include a larger number of students interested in the science field. The objective of the club is to give each student an opportunity to explore various techniques in Biology, Chemistry, Biochemistry and other science related fields. It enables the student to experience and broaden his or her field of study.

Activities include various trips for interested students. The trips included:

- * The Bronx Zoo, N.Y.C.

The Museum of Natural History, N.Y.C.

Coney Island Aquarium, N.Y.C.

Madison Square Garden Circus, N.Y.C.

Hit Movie: Dawn of the Dead, N.Y.C.

Conference at Wilson College, Chamberburg, PA

Cystal Cave, Kutztown, PA

Dinner at the West Orange Manor, West Orange, N.J.

Along with the trips, there were a number of other activities which included a Graduate School Rap session, Valentine Day Open House, Apple Pie sale, Pumpkin Pie sale, Cookies sale and two films were shown for interested students.
